Craps is a popular dice game typically played in a casino as well as informal settings.. Eventually, with practice, additional bets will be learned and result in a deeper understanding of the game for more established Craps players.. It is played with a pair of dice in which players bet on dice rolls When one is playing Craps, money is then wagered against either the casino or the other players in the game.

However, one should note that there are more than 40 additional Craps bets, some of which are more complicated than others.. These bets will need to be learned and mastered with time, and thus, new Craps players should steer clear of the more complex betting options offered at the Craps table.
